It is said that Messrs. W. H. Thomson and C. N. Jones have interested themselves in the move to build a dam somewhere in the Shut-In. John C. McKinley, the Republican nominee for Lieutenant-Governor, delivered a speech at the courthouse Friday evening. C. N. Pannebecker, a substantial farmer of the west part of this county received a letter Wednesday from Mat. W. Hall, superintendent of the agricultural department of the World's Fair, informing him that he had been awarded a bronze medal on a specimen of corn sent to the fair. The corn was raised on Mr. Pannebecker's farm last season and won the prize at the corn show held in this city last winter.—Poplar Bluff Citizen.

The span for the bridge across Stout's creek, between Ironton and Arcadia has been "lost on the road." It looks like a pretty big thing to be lost, but such seems to be the facts in the case. The bridge was loaded on Missouri Pacific car No. 25,947 at St. Louis, October 24th, and nothing has been heard from the car since. It will probably turn up in some far distant land some day. In the meantime those who travel between Ironton and Arcadia will have to possess their souls in patience.

Messrs. L. H. Noell and Chas. A. Grant, representing the Chicago Building & Manufacturing Company, are in the Valley endeavoring to organize a stock company for the purpose of locating a creamery here. It is proposed to spend about $7,500 on the plant. In connection with the creamery it is intended to conduct an ice plant with a capacity of from three to five tons per day. These gentlemen come here at the suggestion of the railroad company and are highly recommended as to their worthiness and integrity. We hope to see them receive every encouragement. An article giving information and showing the benefits to be derived from a co-operative creamery is printed elsewhere. We have no doubt that the establishment of such an enterprise in the Valley would help us wonderfully.

George W. Kitchen is postmaster at Bloomfield and is also chairman of the Republican judicial committee of this judicial circuit. Notwithstanding his "high" position he spent the night in the city jail in this city and Saturday pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $9.90 in police court for being drunk. Mr. Kitchen and the other delegates from Stoddard county went over to Doniphan Friday and nominated George Crum for judge of the 22nd judicial circuit, and returned to this city that night. Mr. Kitchen was so elated over his "terrible task" that he celebrated the event by going out on a rampage while here that night. His rampage was of short duration, however, for Officer Davenport soon spotted him and off to the calaboose he went with him. Mr. Kitchen was due to make a Republican speech at the courthouse that night, but being in jail he was unable to fill the engagement.—Poplar Bluff Citizen.

Last Saturday afternoon Henry Trammel, having taken on a few drinks of fire-water, started from Grandhomme's saloon to the court house in search of P. W. Whitworth. He went into the Collector's office, but found no one there except Mrs. W., who assists her husband in the duties of his office. Trammel peered behind the desk and into every nook and corner for the object of his search. At length, satisfied that Mr. W. was not in, Henry departed and retraced his steps to the saloon across the street, our genial collector all this time oblivious to the fact that he was being sought after so persistently. It seems he was out in front of the courthouse grounds talking to some friends not far from the gate. Shortly after his unsuccessful search, Trammel returned and as he came up the steps to the sidewalk he wanted to know "where that big youngster standing there laughed and one of them said, 'Here is the only big man in the crowd,' pointing to Mr. Whitworth standing a few feet away. Trammel walked up to him, saying, 'What do you want with me?' Mr. W. answered, 'I don't want anything with you, Henry.' 'Didn't you say you wanted to knock my s— of a b— head off?' 'No, Henry, I never said anything of the kind. Now, please go away and don't trouble me.' But Henry persisted, Mr. W. requesting at least half-a-dozen times that he go away; until at length Trammel made a lunge toward him; then Whitworth knocked him down with his fist. Just at this time Wm. Sielinger of Marble Creek "batted in" and after a few words he grappled Whitworth and in their struggles both fell from the sidewalk—here about three feet above the street—into the gutter, when bystanders separated them before either could injure the other. In the meantime the marshal and the sheriff came running to the scene, as did a great many citizens. The marshal attempted to arrest Trammel who had regained his feet and was making warlike demonstrations. But the marshal is a light-weight and could not control his prisoner who is a giant in stature and weight. The latter resisted and the marshal used his club to subdue him; the crowd surging too closely, he drew his gun and cried out, 'Stand back, gentlemen! I have arrested this man and will keep him!' and thereupon, with the assistance of the sheriff, took his prisoner to the jail. These are the facts in the case, with a few incidents which I now proceed to relate. When Sielinger interfered Whitworth was making no effort to further punish the man he had prostrated. 'Don't you hit him again?' said Sielinger. 'I don't intend to if he will go away and let me alone,' said W. 'Well, don't you hit him again!' repeated S. in a menacing tone. By this time the collector's blood was up, and he said, 'What have you to do with it? If you trouble me I'll hit you!' and so on until they clinched. Sielinger, I hear, has had no good will toward Whitworth for some time. 'The cause I do not know, nor does Mr. W. After Sielinger had mounted his wagon standing by, he cried out to W. 'This will hurt you more than it will me! I'm no candidate!' And some of the Republicans present laughed in approval. Various reports were immediately set afloat: one that the marshal had drawn his 'gun' on Mr. W. T. Gay; another that Sheriff Polk held Trammel while the marshal beat him, etc., all utterly without foundation in truth. No one regrets the occurrence more than Mr. Whitworth. He did all that he could to avoid it, short of running ignominiously away. The question in connection with the affair that many of us would like to have satisfactorily answered is: 'Who egged Henry Trammel on to raise the row? I don't believe he did it of his own accord, but that there was some one behind it all. Who was it? What was the hoped-for result? To injure Mr. W.'s candidacy? I confess it looks mighty that way to me, when I recall the fact that Trammel said some one had told him that W. 'wanted to knock his head off,'—a thought that had never entered Mr. Whitworth's mind. Before starting across the street to the courthouse he asserted that he 'was going to whip O'Neal and Whitworth.' The readers of the REGISTER may implicitly rely upon the truth of this account of the trouble; and, knowing the truth, I am satisfied that the thousand-and-one lies concerning it which will be circulated from now on until election day will have no effect other than to make Democrats line up straighter and stronger than ever.

From Arthur Huff.

In the last issue of the paper supporting the hybrid ticket in Iron county appeared an article entitled "A Peculiar Case," wherein certain charges and insinuations are made against myself and two other citizens of Ironton. This article seems to have been written with a total disregard for the facts in the case, and is an insult to the intelligence of the citizens of Iron county. Every charge or insinuation in this article is as untrue as the allegation that the land was sold "about six years ago."

On the 28th day of April, 1896, about the time the sale of lands for delinquent taxes commenced, at the east front door of the courthouse, in the city of Ironton, Mr. M. T. Goggin came to P. W. Whitworth and myself and stated that he would like to acquire title to 320 acres of land about to be sold in a tax suit entitled State ex. rel. Collector Iron county, Mo., vs. David Fleming and all unknown interested parties. I had intended to buy the land myself, but was willing to give way to Mr. Goggin and told him so. A calculation was made as to the costs, taxes and other expenses incidental to the sale, and it was mutually agreed that if we could get the land he would pay the sum of $100 for it. We undertook to accomplish this and were successful, and when Mr. Goggin got his deed we loaned him $85 of the purchase money, taking a deed of trust back on the land to secure the same. This deed of trust stood against the land, and was not paid off until June 8, 1899, and for more than three years we assumed nearly the whole risk, and still you are told that this land was not sold at the sheriff's sale. I hope the people of Iron county will give me credit for having more sense than to loan money on land under such circumstances.

Mr. Whitworth cried the sale of the land for the sheriff, and as I was busy in the courtroom Mr. Joseph A. Zwart was employed to look after the matter, which he did. The sheriff's deed to Mr. Zwart bears date April 28, 1899, was duly acknowledged in open circuit court May 2, 1899, and is of record in book 43, page 13, Iron county land records. This sale was regularly made by the sheriff, and in confirmation of this fact I will introduce the affidavits of three men who were personally present at the time and in a position to know what was done:

STATE OF MISSOURI, ss.
COUNTY OF IRON, ss.
Walter H. Fisher, being duly sworn, on his oath makes the following statement: On the 28th day of April, 1896, I acted as clerk for the sheriff of Iron county during the sale of land for delinquent taxes, which occurred at the east front door of the courthouse, in the city of Ironton, Mo. It was my duty to keep account of the various tracts sold and record of the names of the purchasers thereof. Upon the execution in the case of the State ex. rel. Collector Iron county, Mo., vs. David Fleming and all unknown interested parties, appears a notation in my handwriting made on the 28th day of April, 1896, that Joseph A. Zwart was the purchaser of 320 ac. 20 and ne qr. sec. 29, twp. 34, range 1 e. I remember making this record, and further that the land was sold to Mr. Zwart at public outcry.

WALTER H. FISHER.
[Subscribed and sworn to before me this 1st day of November, 1904.]
J. M. HAYKINS, Clerk
Circuit Court Iron County, Mo.

STATE OF MISSOURI, ss.
COUNTY OF IRON, ss.
On this 1st day of November 1904, before me personally appeared Jos. A. Zwart, Esq., of Farmington, Mo., formerly of Ironton, Mo., who being by me duly sworn, attests the following: On the 28th day of April, 1896, I was present at a sale of tax land conducted at the east front door of the court house in the city of Ironton, Mo.; that on said date under and by virtue of a tax suit, entitled State of Missouri ex. rel. Collector Iron county, Mo., vs. David Fleming and all unknown interested parties, the se qr. sec. 20, and ne qr. sec. 29, twp. 34, range 1 e., was put up and sold at public outcry, and I became the purchaser of the same, being the highest and best bidder therefor. I received a sheriff's deed for said land dated April 28, 1896, acknowledged in open Circuit Court May 2, 1896, which deed will be found of record in book 43, at page 13, Iron county land records. Subsequently, on May 3, 1896, I received all the taxes in said land required by me at said tax sale to Mr. M. T. Goggin. I was employed to attend to this whole matter by Mr. Arthur Huff, who was endeavoring to secure the land for Mr. Goggin.

JOS. A. ZWART.
[Subscribed and sworn to before me on the day and year first above written.]
J. A. LAWRENCE, County Clerk

By N. S. SHAW, Jr., Deputy Clerk.
STATE OF MISSOURI, ss.
COUNTY OF IRON, ss.

P. W. Whitworth, being duly sworn, deposes and saith: On the 28th day of April, 1896, I acted as auctioneer for the sheriff and cried the sale of the lands sold for delinquent taxes at the east front door of the courthouse, in the city of Ironton; at the time stated I sold the Fleming land described as se qr. sec. 20, and ne qr. sec. 29, twp. 34, range 1 e., for the sheriff, at public outcry, giving ample opportunity to every one present to bid upon the same. Joseph A. Zwart was the highest bidder for the land and the same was struck off to him. My recollection of the matter is perfectly clear, and any statement to the contrary is ridiculous.

P. W. WHITWORTH.
[Subscribed and sworn to before me this 2d day of November, 1904.]
COUNTY COURT IRON COUNTY, MO.

After Mr. Goggin purchased the land he sold it to different parties, netting him a handsome profit.

Since this sheriff's sale it has developed that at the time it was made the defendant, David Fleming, was dead, but the collector had no knowledge of that fact when he brought the suit, and all he could do was to sue the record owner of the land, which was done, and no one is to blame for a lack of this knowledge, which is the cause of the whole trouble.

For the reason that their father was dead at the time of the sale, the heirs of David Fleming brought suit to recover the land and about $200 rents and profits, $500 damages for unlawfully withholding the premises, and $500 for timber cut on the land. Many tracts of land are lost to the purchasers at tax sales on account of the parties sued being dead at the time of the sale, but that is a risk that such purchasers have to take.

Since the institution of the suit against Mr. Goggin et al., which was filed June 11, 1903, I had not seen Mr. Goggin until Monday morning the 24th ult. The land being of little value, I was asked by the defendants, Goggin and Black, to see the attorney for the Fleming heirs and try and prevent the rendition of judgment against them on the several counts above mentioned, and to this I finally agreed, knowing at the same time that certain parties were misrepresenting the facts in the case and doing all in their power to injure me. These men were in trouble and I simply treated them as I would have treated any other friend under similar circumstances. After the matter was presented to Mr. Isenberg, the attorney for the Fleming heirs, a satisfactory settlement resulted and he dismissed the suit against Goggin and Black, and they went home well satisfied. For this service I received compensation through the slanderous columns of the hybrid sheet last week, and certain independent (?) candidates are trying to use it for political purposes, but I have too much confidence in the intelligence and fairness of the citizens of Iron county to believe a word of it.

By the way, Mr. Byers, to make one bite of a cherry, I wish to correct another misrepresentation that has appeared in your paper, to the effect that there is a law prohibiting Whitworth and Huff from buying and selling tax lands. There is no such law, and the author willfully tells an untruth or is deeply ignorant. I challenge the party making this statement to produce the law he claims that I have violated, and if he fails to do so, he will stand confessed a falsifier and a willful slanderer.

The Negro Club Endorses W. T. Gay for Representative Because He Does Not Draw the Color Line.

The Roosevelt Colored Club met last Saturday night with a large attendance. Ten more names were added to the list making thirty-five in all. There are also about twenty more names yet to come in. Several candidates were present and enthusiasm was at its highest pitch.

Here are a few reasons why the colored voters should vote for W. T. Gay.

He has always proven to be a good Republican. He has always proven to be a friend of the negro and a friend to the laboring man. He has never failed to do what he could to help any colored man or woman when in need. He has no axes to grind on anyone. He will not draw any color line in the discharge of his duties. He is a strong supporter of negro schools, churches and negro enterprise. He stood by the negro when he was mayor of our city. He has been their friend in public life and will be their best friend in the Legislature. He is the right man for the right place, and from the right county and from the right party. He is for all the people regardless of color, church, business or politics. By voting for him you vote for an every-day friend. Three cheers for Uncle Bill! COMMITTEE.
